Explanation, if appropriate, of why a PMD with a different group classification (e.g., group 2 power wheelchair instead of group 3 power wheelchair) would not be sufficient to meet the individual's needs

Other comments

I certify that the following statements are true:
A PMD will provide a level of functionality for this individual that cannot be achieved with a manual wheelchair.
The individual (or an assistant) has sufficient capabilities to take proper care of and to operate the recommended PMD safely in typical environments.
The individual's place of residence is (or will be) accessible; the individual will be able to use the PMD without assistance to enter and leave the residence, the main living area, the kitchen and dining area, the individual's bedroom (or the room with the individual's bed), and a bathroom. The place of residence has adequate electrical service. The PMD can be transported when necessary and stored so that it is protected from the elements.
